

2008 SFLA Community Outreach
$250 Conference Prize

Students for Life of America encourages student pro-life groups to reach out beyond their college campuses and into their local communities with the pro-life message. Community Service Projects may include projects that your group hosts for pregnant and parenting students on your campus or in your community. Community Service projects may also include partnering and volunteering with other pro-life organizations to assist their pro-life efforts.

Applications due no later than January 5, 2009.

Please email completed applications to Sarah Bunch at sbunch@studentsforlife.org

If there is not enough space provided for your answers, please use additional space.

1. Please describe in detail how your group has assisted pregnant and parenting teens on your campus in 2008.

2. Please describe in detail how your group has assisted your local Crisis Pregnancy Center or other pro-life organizations in your area in 2008.

3. In 2008, approximately how many hours has your group spent volunteering in your community?

4. Has your group participated in any fundraising events for these projects? If yes, please describe the fundraiser, how much money was raised, and approximately how many hours your group spent on the event.

Please include pictures of any of these events with your application.
